

The Big Event

Controlling by Events Assessment

You've been given a magical controller that makes your principal do funny things with her arms.

Take a look below to see what each button does. Can you figure out which series of button events will cause your principal to do each dance? Draw a line from each set of pictures to the button combination that causes it. The first one has been done for you.

